Poster Committee To Aid Publicity

Any S. F. State student or faculty member desiring posters for an on-campus event may have them made by the newly-formed Poster Committee, according to Bert Phillips, Activities Commissioner.

The Poster Committee is set up under Publicity and Promotion of the Associated Students. A nominal fee will be charged. Request for poster blanks are available from the Activities Commissioner.

According to Student Body President Cec Riley, the Associated Students "feel that by providing this service, all groups or individuals utilizing it will be afforded a better opportunity to publicize their activities; thereby insuring that events will be successful."

State Enrollment Up 500 This Fall

As of September 22, 4,740 men, women, and veterans had registered for the fall term at State. In comparison to the registration of last fall, enrollment has increased by nearly 500 Staters.

The regular students numbered 3,900, consisting of 3,357 non-veterans and 543 veterans. This is exactly 100 more students than there were last fall. Seventy-two veterans and 768 non-veterans completed the 840 limited students. Last year's enrollment number showed 409 non-veterans, and 70 veterans enrolled as limited students.

Today is the last day for enrollment of regular students. Limited students may enroll up to next Tuesday.

STUNT CARDS TONIGHT

For the first time in the history of San Francisco State College, Gator rooters will use stunt cards during the half time activities at the September 26 game between the S.F. State Gators and the Pepperdine Waves, to be held at Cox Stadium.

Rooters are asked to wear white shirts, blouses, or sweaters while performing with the stunt cards. Because of the danger of persons being hurt, the stunt cards will not be thrown at the end of the half.

Student Deferment Explained At Meet

Qualifications Outlined By Dean Johnson

Two student deferment classifications were explained at a meeting open to all interested men students in the Rec Center last Thursday, September 18.

The classifications discussed were I-S and II-S, the so-called student classifications. I-S was defined as allowing the student who is ineligible for classification as II-S to finish his current school year. II-S is renewable each year at the discretion of the student's local board and depends upon class standing or the draft qualifications test, on which a score of 70 or above must be attained.

Students attending the meeting were first issued a selective service release explaining the 1951 amendments to the 1948 Selective Service Act. Dean Alan W. Johnson then explained some of the ramifications of the new amendments.

Dean Johnson emphasized that classification of any student under II-S and/or renewal of that classification is entirely at the discretion of the individual local draft boards, but added that in general, students who met the requirements were being deferred.

He also discussed the methods used to ascertain class standing and elaborated on where the student must stand among the men students in his class in order to obtain deferment.

Dean Johnson revealed that a semester report is made on every male student and he is then ranked in his class according to his grade point average.

He added that a freshman student who wishes to become a sophomore must have a grade-point average in the upper half of his class. Sophomores should be in the top two-thirds of their class in order to be allowed to remain in school without draft eligibility.

Dean Johnson also said that the top three-fourths of the Junior classmen are allowed to become Seniors, and that the upper half of the Senior class may remain as graduate students for a maximum of two years.

Students were asked to notify Dean Johnson's office immediately when classified I-A, so that the school can advise the student's local draft board, without delay, that he is pursuing a satisfactory course and carrying a full load of 15 units.

Attendance of a relative handful of forty students at the meeting prompted Dean Johnson to remark that the San Francisco State student body apparently is not worried about the draft.

Health Education Course Now Open For Enrollment

Health Education 4-104, left off the time schedule and the supplement to the time schedule, is open for enrollment.

The course, "Home Nursing and Care of the Sick," is open to men and women Tuesdays and Thursdays, 4 to 5 p.m. in Hut 1B.

Newman Club Meeting

Newman Club is presenting an Open House tonight at 8 p.m. in the club rooms, Convent of the Holy Souls, Haight and Laguna streets. All State students and faculty are invited to attend.

Pres. Leonard Expected To Approve Choice Of Board

A recommendation by the Associated Students' Employment committee that Jack Healy be appointed Administrator of Student Affairs was unanimously approved by the newly-elected Board of Directors at the first regular meeting of that body last Tuesday.

The concurrence of President Leonard is necessary before the appointment can be confirmed but this is virtually assured since he indicated to the Employment committee last week that he would give his approval if Healy were selected for the administrative post.

Healy, currently the Business Manager of the Associated Students, has been acting as Administrator of Student Affairs since August 1, the date on which the resignation of former administrator, Boz Katz, became effective.

Book Tent Folds

Due to the inconveniences encountered in trying to operate a book store in a tent and the fact that very few students were able to save their books from last spring to sell this fall, the student operated Used Book Exchange (UBE) decided to postpone full time operations to the spring semester. This was revealed by Harry Jones, president of the Tri-Omega Service Fraternity, sponsors of the UBE.

Among the many problems the Tri-Omegans ran into during the summer session when they first started receiving and selling books on a consignment basis, Jones continued, was the fact that the tent wasn't a secure enough place to leave books. This resulted in having to move the books into a small storeroom every night and back the next day, all of which involved an undue amount of confusion trying to keep all the books accounted for as to order of selling priority, subject classification, and price category.

The use of a tent for the UBE operations was a last minute substitution when it was found that there were just no rooms available last summer and again this fall for such a needed service. However, with the opening up of more classes at the new campus next spring, indications are that the college will be able to furnish a room in time to handle the spring semester's transactions.

Audio-Visual Teachers

There have been two new additions to the staff of the Audio-Visual department. Mr. Albert D. Peck, instructor, and Katherine Greene, secretary for the department. Peck is a graduate of Chico State college and University of Minnesota where he received his M.A. He taught at Humboldt State College and University of Minnesota after which he worked for "The Encyclopedia Britannica" in the film department. Miss Greene is a graduate of San Francisco State.

EDITORIALS

Our Interests At Heart

The initial action taken by the newly-elected Board of Directors in appointing Jack Healy as Administrator of Student Affairs is worthy of commendation, for in Healy, the Associated Students have a capable administrator, one who has the best interests of the college at heart.

As an undergraduate, he devoted much time and effort to the cause of the Associated Students, and to him should go a portion of the credit for the current effectiveness of the student program here.

Healy has grown with the college. He is aware of the needs that arise in various areas of the college community and has considered the needs of the future.

He is currently attempting to secure a new printing press for the college print shop, a move which, if successful, will greatly reduce the cost of publishing the student newspaper. The new press will increase the capacity of the print shop, enable it to serve the Associated Students more adequately.

Students of the college are fortunate in having Healy as Administrator. He has served them faithfully and efficiently in the past. There is every indication that he will continue to do so.

State Fumbles the Ball

For a school that needs publicity and good public relations as badly as S. F. State does, we're really fumbling the ball as far as the current football display at the Stonestown Big E is concerned.

Prominently displayed amidst the proud banners of the college and the pictures of the team in one of the main windows at the store are two old, worn, sweat-stained helmets which would be a disgrace to even a jayvee hopeful much less to a hopeful college the size of State. Original plans called for the school to loan the store two of the shiny, gold varsity helmets, but the plans fell through when an underling coach decided that the store couldn't have the helmets unless they were returned two days before the first game. Since the store logically wanted to run the display through the day of the opening game, the helmets couldn't be returned in time to comply with the coach's decree, and the offensive headgear was substituted.

NEW ITALIAN STUDENT IMPRESSED

San Francisco State and Ugo Giachetti

Ugo Giachetti, in America for the first time, herewith records his impressions of our educational system. Prior to coming to State College, he worked as a newspaperman in Italy.

By UGO GIACHETTI

In Europe, due mainly to her economic conditions, higher education is the privilege of a few.

Here in the United States, it is the right and the pleasant duty (am I wrong?) of every boy and girl, up to the end of high school at least.

It gave me a wonderful feeling at first entering the State College to be welcomed with a sense of instinctive kindness and warm friendship, by so many classmates of cultural and social backgrounds different from my own.

Here democracy is not only preached, but also practiced in everyday life.

I wish more students could come from Europe and be trained in American schools, then go back to European universities and just tell what they saw.

SCOURGE OF EUROPEAN

The scourge of Europe has always been internecine wars at such proximity that people in Europe have never had the chance to recover from one before another was already starting its deadly march.

Causes and contributing factors of war are too complex a topic for me to discuss now.

For the foreign students in general I think it is not easy to understand immediately the different systems of training in the American schools.

It was very gratifying also to see how interested the professors are in all students and the problems we encounter in this system of life which is completely new for us.

At the same time the students are afraid when they come for the first time to the new school, especially the foreign students because they cannot understand the English language very well and without doubt they find themselves in an attitude of inferiority with respect to the students born in this country.

But this is not a valid reason because I am sure the professors have a consideration for our particular problem.

MAIN DIFFERENCE

The main difference between the universities in many European countries and the universities in the United States is that the students of the universities in many countries are not required to attend classes regularly and of course the method in American schools is the best because the pupils have many occasions to see the instructors and when the time for the examination comes they are not afraid and indubitably it is easier to pass the tests successfully and satisfactorily.

The success gives us hope for the future and hope is so necessary in the life for all people because without hope we cannot stay alive, work, and study to make a better world.

CONFUSED SITUATION

The world situation today is so confused for many economic and political reasons, but I am sure that while individuals can do nothing to stop the wars, it is possible for the united peoples to find a peaceful system of life in the true democracy and liberty.

Yet I am deeply convinced that a better education and more widely-spread educational opportunities must play a very important role in paving the way to a better understanding among people and consequently to their peaceful and prosperous living together.

Job Opportunities Offered At State

Various part time typing and general office work jobs; no experience required, varied salaries.

Playground work in East Bay and Millbrae, varied salaries.

RED CROSS REQUESTS DAYTIME VOLUNTEERS

Expressing a need for daytime volunteers, the San Francisco chapter of the Red Cross, under the direction of Mrs. Edward Coney, is conducting a special September campaign for 200 new recruits.

Arts and skills instructors, canteen workers, motor service drivers, social welfare aides and staff aides are especially needed, according to Mrs. Coney.

"We have an excellent evening group in all of our nine services," explained Mrs. Coney.

Report From Frosh Camp

By SYLVIA SMITH

Frosh Camp. These two words, unfamiliar to the majority of the students at State College, are something you will be hearing more often in the future. A good Frosh Camp consists of a group of counselors, directors, faculty sponsors, and most important of all, a large aggregation of spirited, friendly, and enthusiastic freshmen.

The prime objective of the first Frosh Camp sponsored by State was the orientation of the freshmen who attended. Interest and participation in the various clubs and organizations on campus are promoted. The freshmen were encouraged to be friendly and outgoing in their contacts here at State, both with their classmates and the faculty.

The site of the camp was Asilomar-by-the-sea, an ideal location for any sort of a conference. The weather was ideal for the outdoor rallies and activities which were held. Facilities were available for participation in swimming, ping-pong, volleyball, softball, and general lounging around on free time.

At the final rally, skits were presented by groups of the campers, and one each by the counselors and faculty. The Frosh skits were in the form of satires on their impressions of future college life, of the counselors, and of the faculty. The counselors enacted a crowded streetcar, portraying all of the various characters to be met on the way to school. The faculty gave their versions of the different types of students they had met in their classes, from the typical bookworm to the femme fatale. The skits were well received although they sometimes touched on delicate sources of embarrassment to either the faculty or the counselors.

A counselors roundtable was held. It dealt with the topics: "Social Life and Dating" and "College Life vs. High School Life." It was decided that there was little difference between high school and college social life with the exception of a little bit more sophistication on the part of the "smooth" collegiate fellow or gal. The biggest jump to college life was the responsibility entailed with regard to classes and homework. At State, no one will send you to the principals office if you haven't done your homework nor will anyone check to make certain that you are in class at the time you are supposed to be. It's left entirely up to you, they decided.

The faculty roundtable dealt with the topic of "Activities and the Academic Side of College." Several tips were given the Frosh, about being neither too "book-wormish" or too "rah-rah"—a well balanced program was advised. It was emphasized that students should get more from college than a degree.

Intramurals featured volleyball playoffs between the different discussion groups. The campers and staff participated with enthusiasm.

Highlight of the athletic events was a softball game between the staff and the Frosh which, much to the chagrin of the staff (whose only excuse was lack of sleep), was won by the Frosh by a score of approximately 16 to 5. An amusing incident occurred during the game when Dr. Schutte, a visiting German professor, who, previous to the game had never held a baseball bat in his hand, walloped a triple for the staff. No one was as amazed as he.

Two dances were held during the stay at Frosh Camp. Both included folk and social dancing. Jack Anderson was applauded for his great job of teaching and leading it. Many of the Frosh had never actively participated in folk dancing and were amazed at the fun they had doing it.

The Fireside Chats proved a success—the campers and staff just lounged around a warm fire and talked over what had happened during the course of the day. Everyone was pleasantly drowsy—"tired happy." Frank McCarthy said benediction and the group retired for the evening.

At the final assembly, sad farewells were given by each member of the staff, the State Hymn was sung and the entire group joined hands for Auld Lang Syne.

There are many pleasant memories connected with this, the first Frosh Camp: the friendliness, the close cooperation of the faculty, the tables at meals each attempting to surpass one another in verse, the fireside chats, the informal meetings on the sand dunes, the dinks, the assemblies, the discussion groups, the notable difference between the trip down and coming back—everyone knew everyone else, everyone had had a great time.

These things will serve to further Frosh Camp in the future years, as it grows and becomes better, and better, and better.

Flynn Plans Prom, Requests Aid, In Letter To Juniors

To the members of the Junior Class:

First off I would like to thank each one of you for your apparent interest in our class. This you showed the other officers and myself by contributing more than $200.00 in Junior Class dues paid during registration.

Secondly, I would like to tell you what we, your officers, intend doing with your money. On the evening of December 6th we, the Juniors, are going to have our Prom. Though it will be open to the entire Student Body, it is expected that the majority of those present will be Juniors.

As you know, financial aid cannot alone suffice and bring you the things you want from your class. Personnel is needed. This brings me to the third and final point. Those of you who have a genuine interest in your class should apply for the Junior class council. This is the group that does the work for our class by helping make preparations for our activities. There is a need for many more hands and if you would like to help we would be very glad to have you do so. If interested please leave your name, post office number and what you would like to help on, in my box in College Hall.

ART FESTIVAL OPENS OCT. 7

The sixth annual San Francisco Art festival, sponsored by the San Francisco Art Commission, will be held October 7 through 12 in the Palace of Fine Arts.

A nightly "amateur hour" between 6:30 and 7:30 will be a feature of this year's show, according to Martin Snipper, director of the exhibit.

Sketching, painting, spinning, weaving, jewelry making and other skills will be demonstrated.

San Francisco has received national and international recognition for its Art Festival, which until this year was the only free community-wide art show of its type in the United States.

Two artists from S. F. State were prizewinners in last year's Art Festival—James Leong, a student whose "The Crucifixion" won a second prize, and Alexander Nepote, an instructor, who won a third prize in the watercolor division.

(Leong's prize-winning painting was subsequently stolen from an Art Club exhibition in the Co-op last May, with two other works. According to Nepote, the police are still very much interested, but there have been no new developments in the case.)

Seniors Offered $5,000 In Prizes For Essay Contest

Members of the senior class are urged to compete for the $5,000 in cash prizes offered by the National Council of Jewish Women for the best essays by fourth-year college students on the subject, "The Meaning of Academic Freedom." The contest opens on September 15.

While entries will be accepted until December 31, 1952, contestants are requested to submit their efforts as early as possible. Essays of 2,500 words maximum, should be mailed to Essay Contest, National Council of Jewish Women, One West 47th street, New York 36, N. Y. First prize will be $2,500; second 1,000; and third, fourth and fifth, $500 each.

The Committee of Judges is headed by Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and includes Dr. Ralph Bunche, winner of the 1950 Nobel Peace Prize; Thurman W. Arnold, former Associate Justice of the U. S. Court of Appeals; Dr. Abram L. Sachar, president of Brandeis University; and Mrs. Douglas Horton, former president of Wellesley College and former head of the U. S. Navy WAVES.

Interested seniors may obtain the rules of the contest from the college administrative offices.

Cec Riley's Office Hours

Cec. Riley, president of the Associated Students, has announced that he will be in his office at 2 p.m. daily except Monday to meet with any student with problems or questions concerning the student body.

Canterbury Club Meeting

The Canterbury Club, representing the Episcopal Church on campus, has extended an invitation to all interested students to attend their meeting Wednesday at 34 30th avenue at 7:30 p.m.

Last week, members and newcomers of the City College and S. F. State Canterbury groups held a dinner and dance at the St. Francis Parish Hall.

Men's Glee Club Opens Membership Campaign, Sets Quota At 60 Voices

Aiming at a quota of 60 members, the Men's Glee club opened its membership drive this week with a special appeal for top tenors and basses to turn out.

The club, which is open to all men on campus, was organized in 1947 to give students interested in music a chance to learn something about music and have the opportunity to sing with a group; music majors in the club also gain experience in voice training.

Bill Novales, president this semester, stresses that students need not be music majors to join the group.

Last year the club's activities included a formal concert in Frederic Burk auditorium and a performance at a luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Fairmont. This year's program will be enlarged to include participation in the creative arts show in October and extended excursions around the bay area.

Students may earn one unit of credit for their work with the group by enrolling in music 22-122 from 12 to 1 Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

Women students interested in group singing may also earn one unit of credit by joining the Women's choir; the group meets on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday during the noon hour in AB 201, with unit credit available to those who want it.

The choir starts the fall semester with a new director, John Carl Tegnell, who has joined the creative arts division of the college. Mr. Tegnell's experience includes three years as director of choral music at the University of Tennessee; he is a graduate of Northwestern University.

Civic Affairs Lab Offered At State

At 2 p.m. each Tuesday afternoon for ten weeks, Bay Area students will meet in San Francisco to interview top-level public officials, labor representatives and business executives. During the "laboratory-sessions" students discover many of the problems facing the men in such responsible positions. These observations of municipal affairs integrated with regular classroom lectures tend to make the educational experience more meaningful, according to the foundation.

Anyone interested in obtaining more information about this program can contact the political science department, or the Coro Foundation at 821 Market street.

State Gridders Meet Pepperdine Tonight

KICK-OFF AT 8:15 P.M.

State 13 Point Choice Over Waves; Gators Out To Improve '51 Record

How good is San Francisco State?

Are the Gators going to storm through their schedule and improve upon last year's 8-2 record?

Does Coach Joe Verducci have cause to drape his face in a crying towel or is he loaded with talent?

Some of the answers to these questions will come to light tonight at 8:15 p.m. when the Gators tangle with Pepperdine College in the first game of the 1952 season.

A capacity crowd of 5,500 is predicted for the inaugural in Cox Stadium, including a few hundred residents of Los Angeles and the surrounding territory who are coming to San Francisco by train, bus, and automobile—an excited few hundred residents who think that the Pepperdine "Waves" will overcome the San Francisco Gator.

STATE FAVORED
Odds favor State to win by 13 points and that seems like a reasonable figure.

Yet it could be a lot more or it could be a lot less.

Coach Robert (Duck) Dowell of Pepperdine has a small but select group of football players. His line averages 196 pounds while his backfield measures 176 pounds per man. State's squad will go into the contest with about a five pound weight advantage per man in both the line and backfield.

DOWELL USES T-FORMATION
This year Coach Dowell will be using the straight T-formation compared to last year's single wing.

Dowell has three outstanding gridders in Rudy Osuna LHB, Phil

Magante, a freshman who played three years of ball with the Navy.

Moving on to the center position we find Dick Amandoli, 195 lb. senior, carrying the major part of the burden. The replacements at this position are the problem.

DUNCAN AT QB

In the QB slot, Maury Duncan, Sam De Vito's understudy last year, should handle a large portion of the QB chores. Butch Storm, a made over single wing QB, and Harley Felure, Palomar JC transfer, will back up Duncan.

At left half is Rudy Smith, who was the teams leading scorer in 1950. He is an exceptional open field runner, and a good receiver. Frosh Gary Dunn, and Jewell McKe will aid Smith. John O'Shea is the key to State's offense at right half.

He is a top blocker and a hard driver. He was injured on the third day of practice and will probably not see much action tonight. Behind O'Shea is Harry Bremond, a determined bundle of dynamite at 145 lbs.

Rounding out the team at Fullback position is Johnny Fortson, 187 lb. Junior, Henry Marshall, also a fullback, needs experience in this system but is a big, proven performer in JC competition.

Who is he?

This chap represents thousands of young, red-blooded sons of great American families. He is ready to stand on his own, to carry his share of responsibility. He is preparing for a bright future and desires to train further toward his success. He wants peace, security, and a full life for his family and home. If need be, he is ready to defend his rights and his country. When called on to serve in defense of American liberties, he will be fully trained and equipped to fly and fight with the U. S. Air Force.

This is what he will do—

Today's college man will plan to stay in school and graduate if at all possible. If he is faced with early entrance into military service and possesses at least two years of college, he will enlist as an Aviation Cadet in the U. S. Air Force and choose between becoming a Pilot or Aircraft Observer. After a year of the world's best instruction and training, he will graduate into a real man-sized job and wear the wings of America's finest flying fraternity. Commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force, he will begin earning nearly $5300 a year. His future will be unlimited!

How he qualifies—

He is between the ages of 19 and 26 1/2 years, unmarried and in good physical condition, especially his eyes, ears, heart and teeth. After he has graduated from a recognized university or college, or has earned at least two years of college credits, he is eligible to enter the Aviation Cadet Training Program and will receive immediate processing for assignment to training. By sending for an Aviation Cadet application now, this Most Important Young Man in America Today will help bring about a peaceful tomorrow.

GRANT'S TOME

VOLUME ONE, CHAPTER 6

By HAL GRANT

With only two days remaining before the 1952 football season (State version) is launched it might not be a bad idea to take a peek at our first opponent, Pepperdine.

George Pepperdine University is a coeducational institution located in Los Angeles with an enrollment of approximately 950 students. Their colors are orange and blue and they call themselves the "Waves." Their gridball record for '51 was 5-4-1.

Although we have had no previous gridiron encounters with Pepperdine we had three common "enemies" last year. They were Fresno State, San Diego State, and L. A. State. This is how the results stack up.

STATE	OPP.	PEPPERDINE	OPP.
26—Fresno State	7	14 Fresno State	33
14 San Diego State	22	27 San Diego State	6
27 L. A. State	13	16 L. A. State	13

On previous records it might seem that State would rate a slight edge. But Pepperdine coach Robert (Duck) Dowell has a much faster, more experienced team than he fielded last season. His offense is being sparkplugged by veteran QB Rudy Osuna, a shifty runner, and Fullback Phil Daher, who will do the passing and punting.

Dick Amandoli, 195 lb. center, and John O'Shea, 185 lb. right half, have been elected co-captains for the Pepperdine game. Amandoli and O'Shea are both seniors and monogram winners.

Tri-Omega, News Staff In Intramural Hoop Game

The 1952 Intramural basket ball season will get underway next Tuesday night when the newly formed News Staff A. C. clashes with a darkhorse Tri-Omega fraternity team.

The News Staff A.C. will be captained by Dale Tussing and Lynn Ludlow while the Tri-Omegans will be led by Ron Retana. The game will start at 7:45 p.m. in the men's gym.

The noon and afternoon leagues will also commence the latter part of next week. Some of the probable contenders for the college mural crown will be Alpha Zeta Sigma, Sigma Pi Sigma, Balboa A. C., and the new Oakland A.C.

Last year's hoop championship was captured by the Frosh All-Stars. The All-Stars sneaked past AZS by a 42-39 count in the finals to win the title.

JV Football Sked

Sept. 27—Yuba College, Yuba.
Oct. 4—East Contra Costa J. C., Martinez.
Oct. 11—Alhambra Alumni Club, Martinez.
Oct. 24—College of Marin, Marin.
Nov. 1—Chico JV, Cox Stadium.
Nov. 8—Hartnell College, Salinas.

JV FOOTBALL Gators Tackle Yuba College In Season's Opener Tomorrow Night

Warren Allbee and Ray Poznekoff, backfield and line coach respectively, greeted the largest turnout in the history of Junior Varsity football last Monday. The last time heads were counted we came up with 47 players.

This year's team sports quite an array of new talent. Among the outstanding players is left half-back Bob Springer, a transfer student from U.S.F. Bob is one of the few trackmen that can run a 9.9 hundred. Some of the other stand-outs are co-captain Levei Holmes of Richmond high, and Richmondite Allan Ewift who plays fullback. Next in line and rounding out the starting backfield is Jim Hanretty, a transfer from Santa Clara university.

The '52 season gets under way Saturday evening when the Junior Gators travel to take on Yuba college.

Coach Allbee said that the chances of winning look good, even though the backfield averages only 145 pounds. However Ray Poznekoff said the line is very strong, averaging 195 pounds. Ray Poznekoff is new to S. F. State, but not to football.

BOTH regular and king-size Chesterfields are premium quality cigarettes and come in the smart white pack.

BOTH contain only those proven ingredients that make Chesterfields the best possible smoke: the world's best tobaccos, pure, more costly moistening agents (to keep them tasty and fresh), the best cigarette paper that money can buy — nothing else.

BOTH are much milder with an extraordinarily good taste and, from the report of a well-known research organization — no unpleasant after-taste.

BOTH are exactly the same in all respects. There is absolutely no difference except that king-size Chesterfield is larger — contains considerably more of the same tobaccos — enough more to give you a 21% longer smoke, yet costs very little more.
